

THE MINERS GO OUT.

The 2,000 Abused Laborers in the Great Massillon Valley

LAY DOWN THEIR PICKS.

The Operators Stand as Firm in Their Refusal to Grant an Increase as the Wage Workers Their Demand—A Movement of Great Moment.

Massillon, O., October 1.—True to their determination, every miner employed in the mines near Massillon came out on a strike this morning.

Nothing positive has been heard from Clinton, but the miners and operators are generally of the opinion that the men are out also. It is thought that the strike will be short, indeed, as the miners are in no condition to remain idle for any length of time, and will probably settle within a few days.

The men demand 60 cents, and an increased scale, while the operators offer but 55 cents and the old scale. This affects 2,000 men directly.

SPLENDID VICTORY.

Mayor Rice and the Police Win Against the Comique.

A VERDICT OF GUILTY.

Returned By the Jury After Being Out All Night—Motion Made For a New Trial, Which Will Be Heard Wednesday Morning.

The jury in the case of Michael H. Sullivan, proprietor of the Comique, after being out all night from 6:30 p. m. Monday morning, returned a verdict of guilty at 6:15 o'clock this morning. On the first ballot the vote was 10 for conviction on all three counts of the affidavit, and two for acquittal. The next ballot the vote was 11 to 1, and this was the way things stood during the entire night. Charles Bowen was the juror who thought the other eleven men were wrong. This morning a compromise was effected, it being agreed that a verdict of guilty should be returned on the first two counts, and a verdict of not guilty on the third count. This was accordingly done, and after receiving the verdict, Mayor Rice discharged the jury. The first count charged Sullivan with keeping a disorderly house, and the second with keeping a place where disorderly characters congregated. The third count, on which he was found not guilty, charged him with keeping the bar-room open on Sunday. Mayor Rice is to be congratulated upon his great victory, in giving such a blow to the Comique, as it has received by the verdict of a jury well of known citizens. Firm has been the position he assumed, and by the hearty co-operation of the police force he was able to present a case that even the combined talent of the great local criminal lawyers.

Upham and Piero could hardly budge. There is no doubt that their careful management of a decidedly weak case prevented a verdict of guilty on the three counts of the affidavit.

GOES TO THE JURY.

The defense rested at the adjournment of court, Counsel submitted the case without argument and at 6:30 o'clock Monday night Mayor Rice charged the jury. His charge was fair and able, giving the usual instructions and laying down the law.

City Solicitor Webber is also to be congratulated for the splendid manner in which he handled the case. The attorneys for the defense gave notice of a motion for a new trial and this will be argued Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The cases against the visitors and inmates have not yet been disposed of, but will come up in mayor's court in the near future.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

A Massillon Miss Has Her Clothing Saturated With Oil.

IGNITED BY A SPARK.

In a Flash She is a Mass of Roaring Flames and Her Flesh is Burned to a Crisp Before Help Reaches Her—Filling a Lamp Near a Fire.

Miss Lulu Shunk, aged 19, was fatally burned at Massillon Monday night. She was engaged in filling a lamp with coal oil. Her clothing became saturated and caught fire from a stove. In an instant she was enveloped in flames, and rushing into the yard, fell. Her entire body was burned to a crisp and in many places the flesh and skin hung loose from the bones. She was conscious but in terrible agony. Six weeks ago she fell upon a stove, badly burning her face, and has just recovered.

The victim of the horrible casualty died at midnight from her injuries.

NEW LAW FIRM.

John C. Welty and Judge J. W. Albaugh Form a Law Partnership.

John C. Welty and Judge J. W. Albaugh have formed a law partnership, and will have their offices at the familiar one of Mr. Welty, in South Market street. The partnership will make one of the strongest law firms in Canton. Mr. Welty is so well known to the people of Canton that he needs no introduction, while in former years Judge Albaugh was equally well known. He was on the circuit bench and filled the position in a manner that reflected great credit upon himself and the democratic party, and the bench. Judge Albaugh is an able lawyer and a safe counselor.

THE FAIR CLOSED.

The Attendance Friday Was Not Very Large.

SOME GOOD RACES.

The Favorites Win in Straight Heats—Monroe Girl Takes the Stark County Special Pace—Exhibitors Remove Their Products and the Fair Ends.

The Stark county fair of 1895 is now a matter of history. The closing session Friday was rather poorly attended, country people especially being conspicuously absent. The good races upon the program brought a fair attendance from town but it was not what it should have been to insure that financial success desired by the fair directors.

The air was cold and this had the effect of somewhat freezing the enthusiasm of the people present.

The scenes of Thursday when the rustic youths and their sweethearts came in for their annual jubilee were entirely missing on Friday and very little out of the ordinary occurred to awaken interest.

The chief attraction of the day aside from the races appeared to be the booth where a colored man's head served as a target for ancient hen fruit in the hands of spectators. As the colored man got a day for sticking his head through the hole in the canvas and he seldom got hit, he thought it was a good job. Judging from results Stark county has some very wild shots. About half of those who attempted to hurl the eggs missed the whole canvas, which was about fifteen feet square and the eggs would fly over into the crowd and as a rule settle upon the back of some unoffending citizen.

It has not been a good year for the men who bought privileges and they were unusually pessimistic in their remarks which were calculated to bring purchasers. Very little was sold on the grounds Friday, however.

THE OLD FOLKS.

A Happy and Novel Social Event at Alliance Friday.

BORN LAST CENTURY

Were Several of Those Present—Four Guests Over a Hundred Years Old—Over Eighty Between 72 and 103—An Interesting Reunion of Old People.

The most unique social event of the year was the second annual Old Folks' reunion given by Dr. Charles E. Rice, a popular young bachelor of Alliance, at his beautiful residence on Union avenue, Friday. The reception was an unequalled success, and at the dinner given by Dr. Rice, over eighty guests were present, whose ages ran from 72 years up to 103 years. A number from this city were present, including Mrs. McKinley, mother of Governor McKinley. Rev. John Schaffer, of North Benton, whose age is 90 years, asked the Divine blessing at the dinner, and afterward made a speech. Dr. John P. Gruwell, of this city, 87 years old, the oldest living graduate of the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, read an original poem, entitled "The Old Folks' Party." The oldest person present was Mrs. Elizabeth Byers, aged 103 years. She was the "lion" of the day, and one of the sights of the occasion was to see the dear old woman at the spinning wheel, spinning as she had done eighty years ago. She lives at Yale, O., twenty-four miles from here, and drove in, in a buggy, with her son, to attend the party.

The next oldest was Mrs. Priscilla Spooner, aged 102 years. She lives with her daughter in Kent and came to the party on this morning's train. She is a daughter of Captain Judah Delano, of Duxbury, Mass., where she was born, December 11, 1793.

Catherine Hooker was the next oldest, her age being 101 years. She was born in London county, Virginia, and is a great great aunt of Dr. Rice. Her home is in German township, Harrison county, this state.

Mrs. Loretta L. Walker, aged 100 years, was the next oldest. Her maiden name was Canning and she was born near Shippensburg, Pa.

The next in point of years, at the reception, was James R. Green, the famous veteran of the battle of Waterloo, who addressed the students of Mount Union college at the celebration of the eightieth anniversary of that famous battle, on the 18th of June last. He is in his 99th year, and was born at Bolton, Lancashire, England, and entered the English navy when 16 years old.

Sarah Greenwalt, who was the oldest woman present not a centenarian, is also

A Double Wedding Takes Place in Canton Last Evening.

TWO CARROLLTON SISTERS

Are Captured By a Pair of Canton Young Men—A Very Happy Social Affair—Details of the Double Wedding.

A very quiet double wedding took place last evening, in the Frazer block, on the corner of East Seventh and Walnut streets. Miss Clara Hardwick, of Carrollton, and Mr. Elmer Dyer, of this city, were the first couple to be joined together for life. Rev. Strasser officiated. Miss Maggie Hardwick, also of Carrollton, and Mr. John Ferguson of this city, were next yoked in the matrimonial bonds. The ladies are sisters and are well and favorably known in Carrollton, while Mr. Dyer and Mr. Ferguson are also well known Canton young men. Mr. Dyer is the proprietor of the cafe called the Delicatessen, on East Tuscarawas street, while Mr. Ferguson is a conductor on the C. & S. railroad.

Only a few friends were present to witness the ceremony. Both brides were becomingly attired in black silk gowns and carried bouquets of bride's roses. Immediately after the ceremony the happy quartette left on the 8:15 train for Carrollton, where they will spend two weeks with relatives and friends. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Dyer will reside in their prettily furnished flat in the Frazer block, while Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will be at home on West Eighth street in a cosy little home.

AN EDITOR TO QUIT.

W. H. Phelps, of the Alliance Review, to Make a Change.

It comes to the News-Democrat from a trustworthy source that there is to be a change of editors in the sanctuary of the Alliance Daily Review. The statement is made that W. H. Phelps is to soon sever his connection with that paper and remove from Alliance to some point in the state of New York, rumor says Niagara Falls.

The News-Democrat's informant says that it is understood in Alliance that Mr. Phelps has sold his stock in the Review Publishing Company to the Rev. Earl D. Holtz, D. D., presumably for his son, Wilbur M. Holtz, who, it is understood, is yet a minor, and is a student in Mt. Union college, but who has for the past year been doing more or less reportorial work on the Review.

Who will succeed Mr. Phelps as editor of the Review is not yet generally known, but it will probably be either young Holtz or Logan Craubach, who has also been on the reportorial staff of the paper for the past year. It is thought that there is quite a contest between young Holtz and two or three other interested parties. It is said that Frank Holles, the present business manager, is an aspirant for the editorial chair. Holles, about a year ago, bought H. W. Brush's stock and succeeded that gentleman as business manager. Holles has of late been buying up quite a number of shares of stock owned by small stock-holders, and it is said that he has bought some, if not all of these shares at very low figures.

While it seems quite certain that young Holtz has a well defined ambition for the position of editor, whether or not there will be a clash in ambitious aspirants so as to mar the harmony among prominent stock-holders, remains to be seen. Whatever may be the result of the contest, it seems fully settled that Mr. Phelps will soon retire and some one must be chosen as the new quill driver in the Review sanctum.

THEY'VE KISSED

And Made Up—All Now Serene in the Deuell House.

All is happiness once more in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Deuell. Several days ago an item was published that the husband and wife had separated on account of the friendly relations of Mrs. Deuell to Rev. C. B. Fockler. The husband made such representations at police headquarters. Yesterday said A. Deuell called at this office and said that his statements to the police about his wife and Rev. Mr. Fockler were entirely untrue; that he had made them while under the influence of liquor; that he was sorry he had made them, and that he knew of no wrong between his wife and the aforesaid preacher. In short, Mr. Deuell desired to recall all that he had formerly said. "We are living together again," said Mr. Deuell, "all is happiness now, and I want no reflection either on my wife or Preacher Fockler. The reflection I made was while laboring under too much liquor."

VERY LITTLE INTEREST

Taken By Republicans in the Circuit Judgeship—Col Kibler Nominated.

The republicans of this judicial district met at Zanesville Thursday to nominate a candidate to oppose Judge Thayer of this city for the chair on the circuit bench. Very little interest was taken in the matter as the republicans recognize that Judge Thayer will be the next judge. Two counties sent no delegates and only two out of the fifteen counties in the district were represented by full delegations. Joseph Devin, of Mt. Vernon, Col. C. H. Kibler of Newark, Frank Taggart of Wooster, and T. M. Heles, of Uhrichsville, were the only candidates. Upon the third ballot Kibler was nominated.

The republicans themselves in this part of the state are very poorly satisfied with this arrangement and many of the republican attorneys will vote for Judge Thayer. In the event of Kibler's election, which is hardly possible, Muskingum, Licking and Coshocton, the three northern counties of the district would have all of the judges. This would make a very unfavorable situation for the northern part of the district.
